HOUSE BILL No. 1455

DIGEST OF INTRODUCED BILL

Citations Affected: IC 6-3-2.

Synopsis: Tax deduction for federal retirement benefits. Provides an adjusted gross income tax deduction for part of a federal government pension (including a military pension) received by an individual or an individual's surviving spouse, in an amount that does not exceed the difference between: (1) the maximum benefits payable under Social Security that could have been excluded from federal gross income for the year; and (2) the Social Security benefits actually received by the taxpayer during the year. Provides that a taxpayer may not claim both this deduction and the existing military service deduction or federal civil service deduction.

Effective: July 1, 2003.

- AS A NEW SECTION TO READ AS FOLLOWS [EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2003]: Sec. 3.9. (a) As used in this section, "applicable maximum benefit amount" means the following:
 - (1) In the case of an unmarried individual, the maximum individual Social Security benefit.
 - (2) In the case of a joint return, one hundred fifty percent (150%) of the maximum individual Social Security benefit.
 - (3) In the case of a married individual filing a separate return, seventy-five percent (75%) of the maximum individual Social Security benefit.
- (b) As used in this section, "maximum excludable Social Security benefits" means an amount equal to that part of the applicable maximum benefit amount for the taxpayer for the taxable year that would be excluded from federal gross income under the Internal Revenue Code if the benefit amount were treated as Social Security benefits (within the meaning of Section 86(d) of the Internal Revenue Code) received during the taxable year.
- (c) As used in this section, "maximum individual Social Security benefit" means, with respect to a taxable year, the maximum total amount that could be paid for all months in the calendar year ending in the taxable year as old age insurance benefits under Section 202(a) of the federal Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 402(a)), without regard to any reduction, deduction, or offset under Section 202(k) or Section 203 of the federal Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 402(k) or 42 U.S.C. 403), to any individual who attained retirement age (as defined in Section 216(1) of the federal Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 416(1)) and has filed an application for the benefits by the first day of the calendar year. However, in the case of an individual who receives a qualified governmental pension for less than a full taxable year, the maximum individual Social Security benefit for the individual for the year shall be reduced as provided in regulations prescribed by the United States Department of the Treasury.
- (d) As used in this section, "public retirement system" means any pension, annuity, retirement, or similar fund or system established by the United States, including military retirement systems.
- (e) As used in this section, "qualified governmental pension" means any pension or annuity received under a public retirement system to the extent the pension or annuity is not attributable to service that:

24 SECTION 3. IC 6-3-2-4 IS AMENDED TO READ AS FOLLOWS
25 [EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2003]: Sec. 4. Each taxable year, an individual, or the individual's surviving spouse, is entitled to an adjusted gross income tax deduction for the first two thousand dollars ($2,000) of income, including retirement or survivor's benefits, received during the 29 taxable year by the individual, or the individual's surviving spouse, for 30 the individual's service in an active or reserve component of the armed forces of the United States, including the army, navy, air force, coast guard, marine corps, merchant marine, Indiana army national guard, or Indiana air national guard. However, a person who is less than sixty 34 (60) years of age on the last day of the person's taxable year, is not, for 35 that taxable year, entitled to a deduction under this section for retirement or survivor's benefits. A taxpayer may not claim both this deduction and the deduction available under section 3.9 of this chapter in a taxable year that begins after December 31, 2003.
39 SECTION 4. [EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2003] (a) IC 6-3-2-3.9, as 40 added by this act, applies only to taxable years beginning after 41 December 31, 2003.
42 (b) IC 6-3-2-3.7 and IC 6-3-2-4, both as amended by this act, apply only to taxable years beginning after December 31, 2003.
